PROLOGUE . . .

"We are not finished, but just begun."

As we, the seniors of nineteen hundred and fifty-seven complete our school days here at Ross, we can begin to appreciate the words of Holland who wrote, "Heaven is not reached at a single bound, But we build the ladder by which we rise from the lowly earth to the vaulted skies, and we mount to its summit round by round." To the teachers who have helped us achieve this goal and reach this first rung, we can say only "thank you" for a job well done. The memories we've shared through our years of fellowship together will be lasting treasures in our hearts and minds.

Ross High Alma Mater

Hail the Giants, Hail to Ross;
May the breeze our Banner toss.
See our colors, loved and fair,
Streaming in the evening air.
Lo, the western sky aflame,
At the praise of thy dear name.
Thro' the twilight shadows dim,
Faint, sweet echoes of this hymn.

Alma Mater, hail to thee!
True and loyal hearts have we!
Well we've loved thee in the past,
Still we'll love thee to the last.

Tis education forms the common mind . . .

. . . Just as the twig is bent, the tree's inclined.

—Alexander Pope

Knowledge comes . . .

. . . but wisdom lingers.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Always interested in the advancement of education and the welfare of the students, the Board of Education is faced with one of the biggest tasks yet undertaken—the supervision of Fremont's new senior high. To them falls the job of hiring new teachers and ironing out problems that arise within the school system.

MR. ALLEN E. RUPP

Superintendent

The student body joins together with the graduating seniors in expressing their heartfelt thanks for the services of our Superintendent of Schools, Mr. Rupp. His many duties have been capably carried out, and we wish him success in the immense task looming before him in supervising the construction of the new senior high building.

MR. C. R. COOPER
Principal

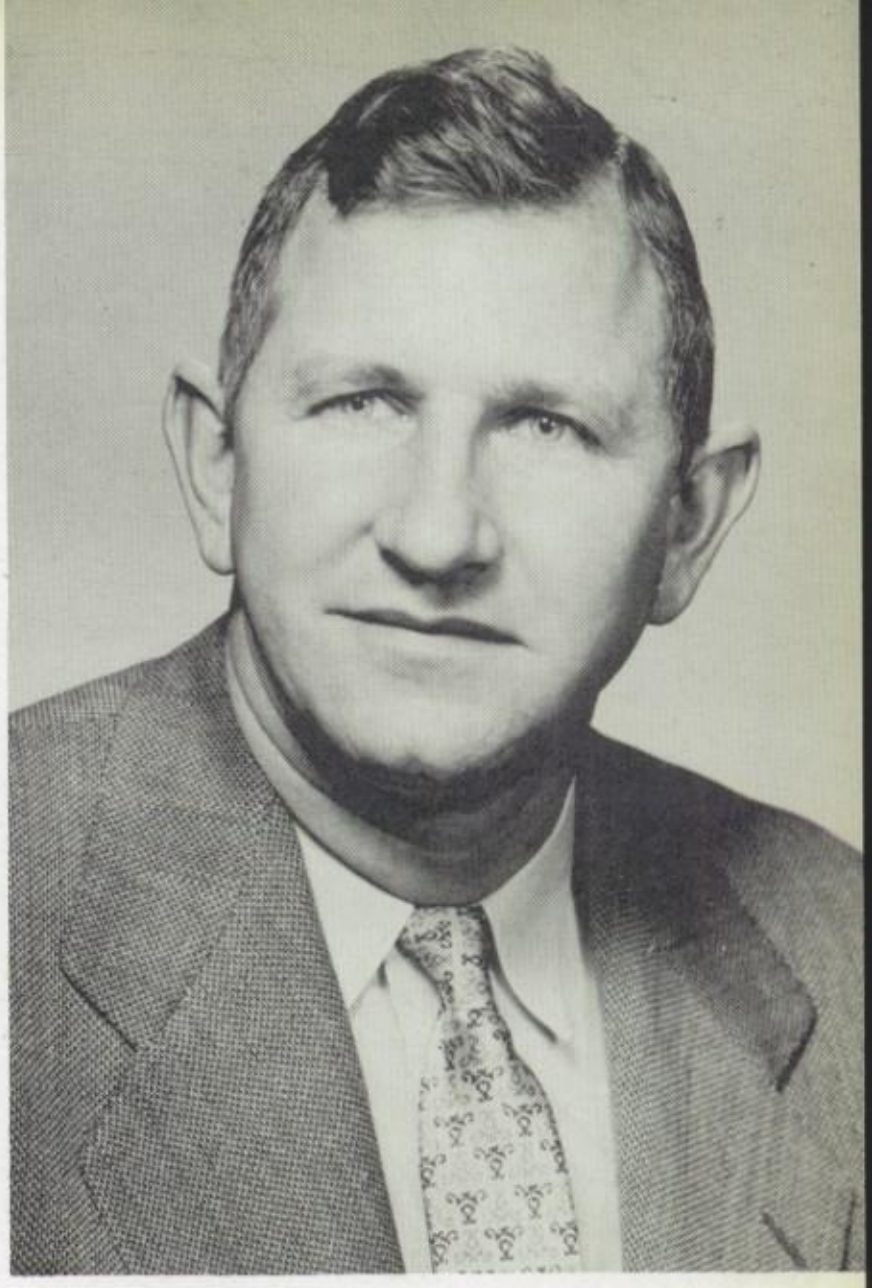
A familiar face to the students of Ross is that of our principal, Mr. C. R. Cooper, whose loyalty to and interest in the pupils of Ross High has won our love and admiration. To him is entrusted the responsibility of proper guidance and preparation of students for their roles as citizens of tomorrow. We have always welcomed his kindly assistance and encouragement throughout our high school days.

MR. H. RANDALL MILLER
Assistant Principal

Mr. Miller, our well-known and respected assistant principal, is an important figure in the halls of Ross. His tasks are many and varied and require unlimited effort and foresight. Through our years, we have come to know him as a close friend and efficient counselor.

MR. ROBERT SEELE
Dean of Boys

Mr. Seele has completed his second year as Ross' Dean of Boys. He has capably filled his duties in creating better pupil-teacher relations and counseling with boys in all six grades. We, the seniors of '57, wish to express our appreciation for his untiring services.



MISS THELMA HUGHES
Visiting Teacher

"Wisdom and laughter in her eyes; Justice on her lips and kindness in her heart," sums up the feelings of the students towards Miss Hughes. The many duties entrusted to her have been efficiently carried out throughout the year. Her understanding and guidance in counseling of the girls, one of her main duties, will long be remembered.

Class Song

BY JUDY CARMEAN and NANCY SIGERFOOS
Tune: Give Us This Day

Goodbye Ross High, for we are leaving you today,
Farewell teachers, we're thankful for your guiding ways.
Now the time has come to leave you, with gentle tears,
We'll remember you dear Ross High, through all the years.
Goodbye Juniors, we leave to you our tasks undone,
We will miss all of our friends and all the fun.
Now we go through doors real wide,
To the great big world outside,
Goodbye Ross High, Goodbye Ross High today.

Goodbye Sophomores, we wish you luck in all you do.
Farewell Freshmen, our Senior year is nearly through.
Now we part from school today, hoping not to lose our way,
Goodbye Ross High, Goodbye Ross High today.

ACTIVITIES

Rain or shine, the voice of duty calls.

Interesting and inspiring half-time shows were the sequel of many long and tedious hours of practicing endured by the band and its directors, Mr. Sells and Mr. Stierwalt. With the completion of another successful football season, the band moved inside to spend more weary rehearsal hours in preparation for concerts and contests. We, the students of Ross, are proud of the excellent performances and marching ability displayed by them throughout the year. "Hats off" and a special salute to the band and its directors for a job well done.

The Toledo Scott football game was the last time these seventeen seniors marched down Harmon Field in tribute to the Little Giants. Those graduating included: Ronald Ashdown, Nancy Baker, Freda Cooley, Dorothy Deichert, Judy Fiebiger, Darlene Fink, Raymond Fry, Jane Ann Fuller, Tom Hite, Maia Leetmaa, Susie Nickel, Larry Otermat, Susie Schwartz, Bruce Shilling, Jim Workman, LaMar Smith, and majorette, Pam Goff.

BAND

Many hours of tiring practice were spent in preparation for concerts, contests, football games, and assemblies. The band, at this point, was rehearsing for the Class A state contest held April 30 in Columbus. For twenty-five consecutive years the band has received superior ratings in this event.

DANCE BAND

Finding the Dance Band "at ease" was no small task. Taking time out from their routine practicing are Dennie Wurzel, Larry Otermat, Jack Hepner, saxophones; Jerry LeJune, trombone; Butch Nickel, cornet; Steve Wilson, drum; and Charlie Pinneo, string bass.

Always on hand when needed.

No after-game dance would have been complete without the Dance Band's providing the music. This year the band was known as Charlie Pinneo's Combo and was comprised of students interested in swing and popular music. Besides playing for dances, the band gives an annual assembly and is always on hand for intermission music between the acts of class plays if they are needed. Of course, as for all good performances, many hours of practicing was necessary to obtain the excellent rhythm, co-ordination, and music characteristic of the Dance Band.

Students will always remember the after-game dances in the Girls' Gym and dancing to the music of the Dance Band. Nothing was more wonderful than dancing with that favorite boy or girl to their final number "Good Night Sweetheart."

JUNIOR HIGH BAND

Experience is the best teacher.

The primary aim of the Junior High bands is to develop background and fundamental training in music on their respective instruments so that at the beginning of their ninth year they can qualify for membership in the Senior Band. This includes three phases: 6th grade pre-band, 7th grade Junior Band, and the 8th grade Cadet band. The band directed by Mr. Sells and Mr. Stierwalt includes thirty-seven 7th graders and forty 8th graders.

Not only do the members receive fundamental music training but also training in marching and formation routines. As soon as the snow leaves the ground the Junior High Band moves outside to obtain instructions in these essentials vital to the organization's success.

Members of the Junior High Band spend many hours of practicing during the year in order to learn the skills of playing together as a group. Though the long hours may sometimes become tiring, the band knows that only by constant practicing will they be able to develop the proficiency necessary to qualify them for the Senior Band in their freshmen year. Certainly, "experience is the best teacher" for these promising beginners.

JUNIOR HIGH CHOIR

Choral cadets today;
A Cappella members tomorrow.

Learning the fundamental steps of any endeavor is quite important to its success and the Junior High Choir members strive hard to practice this lesson in order to uphold the tradition of fine vocal music, when they as freshmen, will join the A Cappella Choir. The boys and girls learn to follow directions from a choir master, to read music, and practice proper singing procedures. During the year, they are sometimes called upon to give concerts.

Singing is no exception to the old adage that "practice makes perfect." Members of the choir spend hours of practicing to gain perfection in singing different parts. The Junior High Choir is actually the first opportunity students have to experience the satisfaction gained through singing together.

"Sit up straight, open your mouths, breathe deeply," are all familiar commands given to the boys and girls as they practice under Mr. Kooistra's direction. One member of the choir who is proficient on the piano is chosen to accompany the songs the choir sings. All this is to give them fundamental training and a good music background for the day when they will don the traditional black gowns and white stoles to become full-fledged A Cappella members.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

"Music is well said to be the speech of angels."

Seventy-eight A Cappella Choir members blend their voices together each morning in room 312 in preparation for the many vocal events in which they participate during the year. This year the choir presented a Thanksgiving and Christmas concert, a Band-Choir concert, attended the Music Festival at Delaware, and participated in the Buckeye Conference at Lorain. Under the direction of Mr. Kooistra, the members develop proficiency in singing and find satisfaction in working together to produce the beautiful music characteristic of the Ross A.C.C.

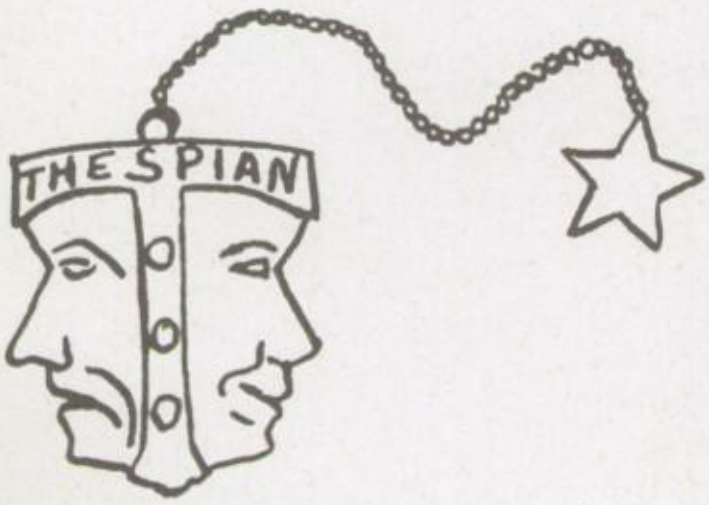
The A Cappella's Christmas concert in the balcony of Birchard Library was an inspiring program to all who heard it.

Comedy and tragedy are important words in a Thespian's language. Treas. Na[redacted]oos, Miss Forsyth, Pres. Jay Breeding, Sec. Lavonn[redacted], and V. P. Tom Hite examine their insignia and stu[redacted]ning.

NATIONAL THESPIANS



Hitch your wagon to a star.

The students you saw huddled over play books during the year were probably National Thespians attempting to memorize a part in some play. In order to qualify as a Thespian, the student must have earned at least ten points in some field of the dramatic arts. A star is then awarded for each additional ten points the Thespian earns. Much of the credit for their excellent presentations is due to their energetic advisor, Miss Forsyth. We can all agree that their efforts were well worth while.

You're not seeing double but just a few of the National Thespians before their performances at the Bascom clinic. Mr. Shearer was close by for guidance and moral support.

"Take Care of My Little Girl"

Officers Susie Nickel, Martha Deichert, Dorothy Deichert, and Ann Wonzer discuss a Y-Teen problem with Mrs. Stager, their advisor.

Members listen intently before accepting a motion that a room in the Y.M.C.A. be devoted to Y-Teen use.

At Christmas the club sponsored a needy family presenting them with a tree, gifts, and food. Here, they prepare tree decorations.

Y-TEENS

The Y-Teens, a junior branch of the Y. W. C. A., attempts to instill in the minds of young women right attitudes of social, religious and moral life in order to prepare them better for the greater tasks in the years ahead. Under the capable supervision of their new leader, Mrs. Stager, the girls take part in planning a mother-daughter banquet, the Y-Teen picnic, charitable projects, and several social functions including their big annual semi-formal.

HI-Y

That very cold, tired-looking boy selling mums at the football game this year was a Hi-Y member striving to earn money for his organization. Besides this annual project, the boys are engaged in various activities including providing food for needy families, and the semi-formal sponsored jointly by the Y-Teens and the Hi-Y. The members with their advisor, Mr. Hille, attempt to maintain and extend throughout the home, school, and community high standards of Christian character.

Bill Gwinup and Tom Klopp attempt to rack up a couple of points for the Hi-Y boys at one of their after-school games.

CHATTER STAFF

Friday mornings every other week find thirty-five members of the "Chatter" staff busily scurrying around trying to see that the "Chatter" is correctly distributed. Distribution, however, is only a minor part of the tremendous task these journalism novices have on their hands. Writing features, headlines, editorials, correcting proof, and making up the dummy are all part of the work they must do in order to get the "Chatter" to the students of Ross. Much of the credit for the "Chatter's" success is due to the advisor, Mr. Tooley, for his supervision throughout the year.

Juniors are a vital part of the Chatter Staff. As reporters they are assigned special beats which they must cover for each issue.

Editors Tom Hite, Judy Fiebiger, Gary Pearson, Susie Schwartz, and Maia Leetmaa finish last-minute details before sending the "Chatter" to press.

John Roush sees how it feels to sit in the sport's editor's chair while the rest of the Cubs view material for the annual and "Chatter".

Darlene Fink passes out "Chatters" to the Cubs for distribution in the home rooms.

CHATTER CUBS

The Chatter Cubs play an important role in determining a successful future for Ross High's "Chatter." From Mr. Tooley, these budding reporters receive information concerning editorial work, selling, writing, and circulation. Those who show ability in journalism then become permanent members of the "Chatter" staff in their junior year.

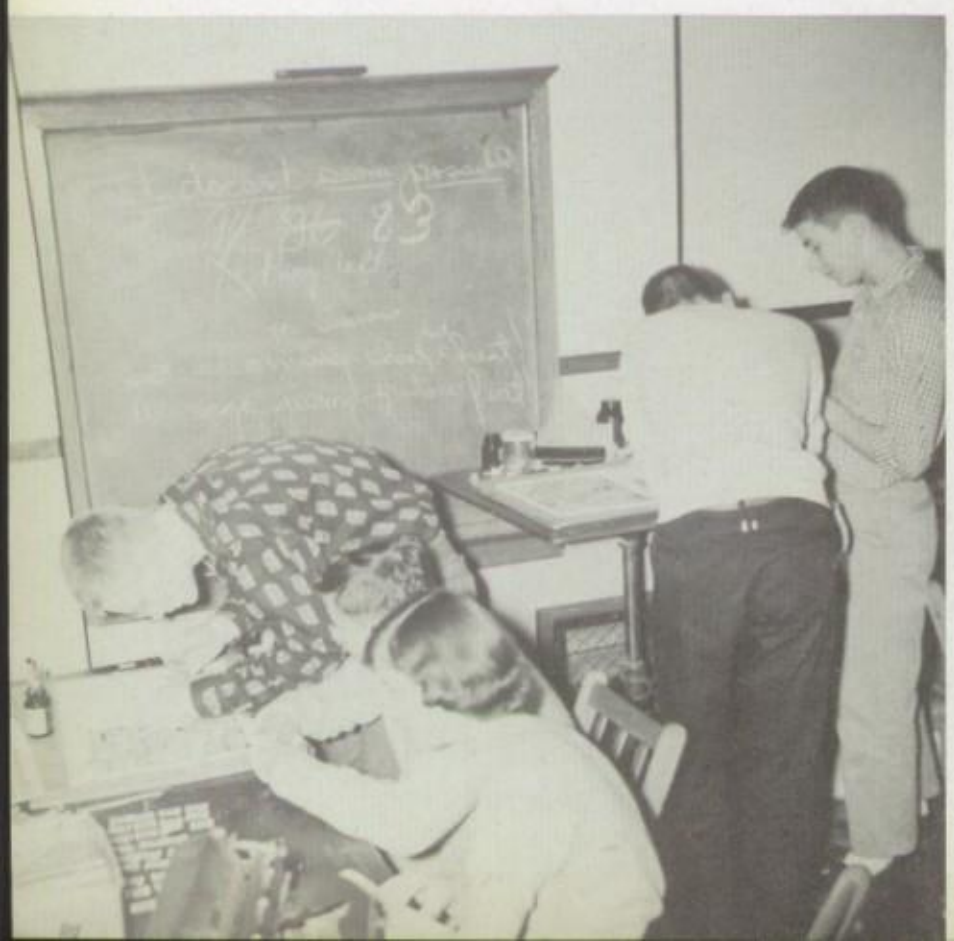
ANNUAL STAFF

Perhaps some of the busiest students in Ross are those who have the job of compiling the Croghan year book. Rushing to meet the deadline, the students are busily engaged in pasting and trimming pictures, writing copy, making up the dummy and last but not least raising money to meet the costs of publication. Their job is by far no small matter. Their purpose is to present to you at the close of your school days a book containing all the memories and good times shared together as students in the halls of Ross High.

" 'Gang,' rather than 'group' seems to fit better," explains Mr. Tooley to the annual editors as he proofreads some yearbook copy. Lou Ann Fox, Jim Workman, Sue Nickel, Ann Fangboner, Connie Walton, and Al Hetrick look on and add their stamp of approval.

Pasting underclassmen's pictures and writing name copy for the annual was no small task. Staff members will long remember the painstaking accuracy and tedious hours involved.



Susie Nickel, Lou Ann Fox, and Al Hetrick confer for a moment over one of the many problems involved in compiling the annual while Russell Hanna continues with pasting the underclassmen's pictures.

The voice of the students; the government of our school.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Promoting a better pupil-teacher relationship and an interest in school functions are some of the aims of the Student Council. The club, composed of class officers and representatives from each of the six grades, has sponsored a clean-up campaign, a junior high Halloween dance, a clothing drive for the people of Hungary, and several after-game dances. The work and efforts of the Student Council and its capable advisor, Mrs. Carlson, are greatly appreciated.

The clean-up campaign was one of the main projects undertaken by the Student Council this year. Vice-Pres. Dave Kohr, Sec. Lavonne Dodway, Adv. Mrs. Carlson, Treas. Connie Walton, and Pres. Al Hetrick were frequently found in conference attempting to solve some of its many problems.

The Student Council sponsored many dances this year. On Halloween they entertained the Junior High at a masquerade party and dance.

Many fiery discussions resulted from the various problems the Council attempted to settle this year. Members were kept busy in planning committees, running errands, and seeking information vital to the problem at hand.

Debate teaches you to think clearly, critically, and expressively. Everyone can participate in the tournaments whether he makes varsity or not. Here we see one of the teams, with Art Warsell in the heat of argument, during a debate.

Most everyone likes to argue, but to argue well, 'aye—there's the rub.

DEBATE

Armed with the gift of gab and the spirit of argument, the debate teams set off to the debate tournaments held on Saturday mornings in schools throughout the state from the middle of November through February. These early morning trips, which necessitate giving up late Saturday morning sleeping hours, and late study hours needed for preparing arguments, are all a part of debate which no debator would give up; for they are more than compensated by the fun of meeting, competing, and making friends with students from other schools, where sometimes lasting friendships result.

Mr. Shearer gives pointers on how to answer debatable questions.

Conveyance poses a problem sometimes,

Individual Events consist of Prince of Peace, Humorous Declamation, Original Oratory, and Extemporaneous Speech. Here we see Benjy Eisler as he practices his "Casey At Bat" before the Individual Events members.

He who can express himself clearly is well on his way to success.

THE NATIONAL FORENSIC LEAGUE

The National Forensic League offers to its members opportunities in speech activity for interested students of Debate, Prince of Peace, and Individual Events. Though there is a lot of initial work involved, the personal satisfaction received from winning a contest fully compensates for the long hours spent in memorizing a speech. The members know that numerous colleges offer scholarships based upon their activity in this organization and under the careful guidance of their advisor, Mr. Shearer, strive hard to achieve success.

but the debate must go on!

LIBRARY CLUB

No entertainment is so cheap yet so gratifying as reading a good book. The Library Staff knows that books play an important part in the student's school days and, under the careful supervision of Mrs. Turner, they help in selecting books, repairing torn pages, and seeing that new books are put into circulation. We can be justly proud of our excellent library and the competent staff that has made possible many pleasant hours of reading among the shelves of books.

Gary Bierly vice-pres., advisor Mrs. Turner, pres. Nancy Baker, and sec.-treas. Barbara Leonard devoted many hours of service to assisting students in their reading enjoyment. During the time of Mrs. Turner's illness, the officers capably carried out the great responsibility that lay on their shoulders.

After helping students select their reading choice, the Library Staff sees that the books are then checked out and their cards filed correctly. Any fines that must be paid are received by these students also.

The Library was often used for reference by students during the year. Its excellent dictionaries, encyclopaedias, thesauruses, and card file supplied much needed information for themes and reports.

"Art—the expression of one's soul talking to another."

ART CLUB

Under the guidance of Miss Williams, twenty-seven Ross High students belonging to the Art Club prove their artistic ability in painting, sketching, and craft work. Much of their time is also devoted to the study of great artists and their techniques. For added diversion and pleasure, they have taken trips to various art exhibits in the area.

Miss Williams, as advisor, helped Art Club members develop a deeper appreciation for art. Here, John Roush, president; Duane McGormley, vice-president; John Parish, sergeant-at-arms; Barbara Mackey, news reporter; and Eloise Ivy, secretary; observe as she points out a few instructions to follow. Nancy Pump, treasurer, was not present.

Much of the time at Art Club meetings is devoted to craftwork. However, learning the techniques used by outstanding artists is also enjoyed by the members.

A few of the Art Club members are found busily working on their projects. Back of them are murals and paintings done by other promising students in the field of art.

Officers of FTA were frequently found consulting with Miss Young over some problem that needed ironing out. Bertha Ihnat vice-pres., Carole Sand treas., Lou Ann Fox pres., and Jackie Fox registrar of points will long remember these sessions.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

Students Still, but Teachers Tomorrow

FTA—the teachers' stand-by when the substitute list is exhausted. Whenever a teacher needs help in grading papers, watching a class, or helping students, he can find assistance through an FTA member. Under the direction of Miss Young, the students attempt to gain moral discrimination, a wholesome personality, physical vitality, and a better understanding of the teaching profession. Most of the fifty-six members in the organization will pursue a vocation in the teaching profession, and through their membership gain experience in the basic essentials.

Each member during the year was given the opportunity to help plan the monthly meetings. Some of the highlights this year included hearing Bud Cross, Speech Therapist, Mr. Rupp speaking on Cadet teaching, the annual FTA candlelight initiation, and their spring picnic held in Rodger Young park.

FUTURE NURSES OF AMERICA

Nancy Harris vice-president, Hope Kniffin secretary-treasurer, and Mary Ann Smith president look over their notebook before making plans for a future meeting. Mrs. Nickel, their advisor, was also called into consultation.

Helpers of Humanity; Medicine's Maids

Perhaps the newest of our organizations here at Ross is the Mary Dalton Chapter of the Future Nurses of America started at the beginning of this year. Its purpose is to extend knowledge of the nursing profession to interested girls who plan to follow this vocation. Under the leadership of Mrs. Nickel and Mrs. Kohr, the girls participate in discussion groups and hear lectures from eminent people employed in the field of medicine. Tours of Memorial and Toledo Hospital were also planned to help acquaint the girls with hospital procedure.

When Delight Sorg was stricken with appendicitis a fellow Future Nurse member, Mary Ann Smith, was close by to give assistance. Both girls plan to enter the nursing profession, Mary Ann working for some time as a nurse's aid at Memorial Hospital.

"Surgical Nursing" was the topic of the address given to the FNA by Dr. Lee Moore at this Monday night meeting in room 312. The girls were frequently addressed by speakers engaged in the medical profession.

"Vive la France" is a familiar expression to the French Club members who study the Frenchman's customs, literature, and art under the capable direction of Miss Forsyth. With the purpose of the club being to create a better relationship between our people and theirs, the members participate in giving skits, reports, and presenting an annual French banquet unique in the French food and customs.

SPANISH CLUB

The purpose of the Spanish Club is to help acquaint the fifty-five Spanish "estudiantes" with the language and customs of the Spanish-speaking countries. Its aim is to instruct the student in a better understanding of the civilization, habits, foods, dress, dances, etc. Through their activities, they hope to create a closer relationship with the Spanish-speaking people.

LATIN CLUB

Developing an appreciation for the ancient civilization of Rome and creating an interest in Latin is the major purpose of Latin Club. With Miss Young as their advisor, the one hundred and eight members also derive a better understanding of English grammar and usage as Latin is the foundation upon which our language is built. Second year students have the opportunity of joining the Junior Classical League which promotes a more thorough knowledge of Roman life, history and literature. Students in this organization plan the annual Roman Banquet in full Latin costume and style.

Members of Junior Classical League take notes as Miss Young tells of Roman civilization and customs.

Judy Cucare, Hope Kniffin, and Sandy Viton display the projects they made for Latin Club. They include a Roman viaduct and dolls dressed in typical Roman style.

Officers: Ernest Hetrick pres., John Roush vice-pres., sec.-treas. Marlene Ascherman, and advisor Miss Young.

BIOLOGY CLUB

Field trips, biological research, films, and lectures are some of the features offered by the Biology Club to its forty-one members. Under the careful supervision of Mr. Hille, the opportunity to learn more about the biological sciences is presented to interested students who are taking or have completed a course in biology. Much knowledge has been gained through the projects and group discussions undertaken by these "budding biologists."

Karmi Kuusberg treas., Gary Pearson vice-pres., Ed Potter pres., and Ann Wonzer sec. discuss with Mr. Hille a biological term before calling a meeting to order. Sara Scheflin, historian, was unable to attend.

Members listen intently as Karmi Kuusberg proposes a motion that the Biology Club sponsor a dance, the Lizzard Leap, in order to raise money for the organization. The motion was carried and plans were immediately started for the dance.

Finding the duration of the muscle contraction in a frog's leg was the experiment Juri Taalman undertook as a Biology Club project. The recordings were then shellacked for future reference.

VOCATIONAL INDUSTRIAL CLUB

Teaching mechanical training to the V.I.C. boys is one of the main purposes of the Vocational Industrial Club. Membership in this organization is open to any student in Ross enrolled and doing passing work in the regular vocational trade shop course. They attempt to create among the student body, faculty, and business and industrial men, a deep interest and esteem for vocational training.

Since all members in V.I.C. have a common interest in vocational training, many of the meetings are spent in discussion about this field. In the picture at the left, Jim Edwards calls the meeting to order, while on the right Don Farster, Roland Burmeister, Jim Edwards, and Gary Leggett examine a metal lathe in the machine shop room.

THE TWENTY

Cuyahoga

The Ross High Little Giants started their '56 Football season with a rousing victory, defeating Cuyahoga Falls 38-7 in the opening game at Harmon Field, September 14. The Little Giants monopolized the first three quarters, allowing Cuyahoga to score only once in the fourth period. Jim Tiller, with two T.D.'s and Bill Smiley may be accredited with the half-time score of 25-0. The second half saw Tiller score again and—throw to Smiley for a T.D. giving the Little Giants a smashing 38-7 victory.

Latin

The second victory came when Ross's Little Giants gave Cathedral Latin a double drenching, 19-13, fighting hard in the rain at Harmon Field, September 21. Jim Tiller bolted 66 yards in the mud, then 3 yards to give us a lead of 13-0. Latin retaliated by scoring a touchdown and leaving the score 13-7 at the half. Latin scored again tying Ross at the end of the third quarter. Tiller scored early in the final quarter to carry Ross to a 19-13 victory.

Findlay

The Little Giants journeyed to Findlay, October 5, to trounce the Trojans 53-6. Tiller scooted 61 yards followed by Beebe Schneider's 51 yard run to gain 14 points in the first quarter. Elyria

Elyria's Pioneers were the number six victims on Ross' list after losing on their home field 37-6, October 19. Ross jumped ahead early with Smiley scoring in the first quarter and Schneider in the second. Bako received a pass from Brown to score the Pioneers' lone T.D. Bob Heilman gained another T.D. in the third period with Tiller and Shawl scoring and Pat Shanahan catching Taylor for a safety for a 37-6 victory.

Lorain

Lorain came to Fremont to give Ross their toughest battle, but again Ross was victorious, winning this hard fought game 14-13 on October 26 on a damp field. After a quarter of fumbles, Schneider passed to Tiller, and Smiley completed the extra point for a half time score of 7-0. Lorain went into the air to gain their first T.D. and extra point only to be again upset by a 92-yard run by Tiller. The Steelers' final bid was a T.D. in the fourth period, but failing to make the extra point, they lost 14-13.

The Fremont Ross swimmers opened the season by defeating Oberlin College freshman 49-28 in the Oberlin pool on December 15. Ross took all but two firsts to start the season off in fine fashion.

A trip to Sandusky January 10 proved successful as the Ross tankers swam to a close victory of 39-38. Dave Carl, Jim Streeter, Al Hetrick, and the freestyle relay pooled firsts for the Little Giants.

Victory number three saw the Little Giants swamp Lima 67-9, January 17. Fremont traveled to Lima to take all firsts and all but one second place and to set three Lima pool records.

The first loss came with Ross losing a triangular meet January 19 in the Fremont pool. Upper Arlington was first with 52 points, second, Fremont with 51 points, third, Sandusky with 33 points.

The Ross swimmers won victory number four January 24 as they defeated Marion Y 53-17 in the local pool. The Ross tankers copped all first places.

Swimming to the fifth win in dual meets, the Little Giants beat Western Reserve Academy January 26 by a score of 50-27.

February 2 the Ross tankers traveled to the Bowling Green Relays and tied for sixth place. Points were gained by the free style relay and the medley relay, who set a new school record of 2:02.0. (Old record 2:02.4.)

February 7 the Sandusky Blue Streaks came to Fremont with revenge in their eyes only to lose 36-41 to the Ross mermen. Ed Nickel, Tom Trout, Streeter, Hetrick, and the medley relay team which again broke the record getting 2:02.2 pulling the Ross squad to their sixth victory.

The Ross mermen lost their first dual meet February 8 when the powerful University School of Cleveland came to Ross defeating them 59-18. University School set a new pool record of 1:34.9 in the free style relay.

February 15 saw the Ross tankers make a valiant but futile effort to defeat Canton. Canton won 41-36 with Tom Trout, Dave Carl, and the free style relay gaining firsts for Ross.

The Little Giants final dual meet saw mostly the reserve squad defeat Marion Y at Marion 39½-37½ on February 16.

With a seven win two loss dual meet record Ross copped top honors in the district at Bowling Green February 22. Ross was first with 113 points, 2nd Sandusky 88 points and Lima last with 12 points. Twelve Ross swimmers qualified for the state finals.

The Little Giants Cross Country squad enjoyed a very successful season by winning six out of nine meets. In cross-country the team with the low score is the winner, and the Ross runners won their share of firsts. Under the direction of coach Harold Schahet, the runners completed the two mile runs with marked self-improvement.

BASEBALL-1956

The Ross baseball nine had a good season last year as they played an 11 game schedule late in the spring. During the season, which started on April 5, the team won six while dropping five. They had three shutouts and one no hitter. On April 30, they met Ashland in the first round of the tournament and were defeated, 6-2. However, the future is bright with 10 of last year's 16 man team returning.

The Ross tennis squad is one of the hardest working, least recognized athletic teams in our interschool program. Tennis is as strenuous as any sport on the Ross calendar. It requires stamina, coordination, and split-second timing. The boys practice long and hard to get into condition for the busy season (9 matches in 3 weeks.)

The team did a good job last year with no seniors and only three juniors on the squad. They ran up a 5-4 record and sent three boys to the district, Tom Hite, Charles Montgomery, and Al Hetrick. From the looks of things, this year's squad should be really hot!
